By Associated Press Leased Wire San Francisco, Cal., April 22.—Announcement that he had complied with the request of Governor Stewart, of Montana, that troops be sent to Butte as the result of mine strike disturbances there was made here today by Lieutenant General Hunter Liggett, commanding the western department of the army. The size of the detachment was left to Major General John F. Morrison, commanding Camp Lewis.

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Spokane, Wash., April 22.—A detachment of the Twenty-first infantry left Fort George Wright, near here today for Butte, Mont., following receipt of orders late last night from Western department headquarters.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Butte, Mont., April 22.—Hugh B.
Harlan, a guard in front of the Daily Bulletin, said to be the organ of the Metal Mine Workers, Union No. 800, I. W. W., was shot and killed today by Joseph Papst, another guard. Papst, who was arrested, said the shooting was accidental.

City and county authorities were investigating today a clash late yesterday near the Newcomb mine here in which 14 men were shot and two of them seriously wounded. Most of the injured were said to be pickets placed about the mine following the calling of a strike Sunday by the Metal Mine Workers' Union to enforce demands including a wage of $7 for a six hour day and release of "all political prisoners."

The shooting began according to Sheriff John K. O'Rourke, while he and a force of deputies were attempting to disperse a crowd which had gathered at the gates of the stockade about the mine. At the time the sheriff said, several arguments were in progress.

The first shot, the sheriff said, was fired from a window of a nearby boarding house and narrowly missed a deputy sheriff. Immediately afterward, he said, shots were fired in all directions.

Nick Carter Outdone By Dixon P. O. Force

The duties of Postmaster William Hogan are not altogether pleasant at all times, and complications arise daily, which require lengthy consideration as well as unrestricted patience. This is evidenced from a letter received Wednesday morning by the postmaster, enclosing another letter and with the following request: Dear Sir—

"I enclose you will find a letter which I wish you would deliver if you recognize the place from my diagram and description.

"I am a soldier and it would help me a great deal if you could find this place. I have forgotten the man's name but I thought it was Charles something. He lives about 7 or 8 miles from Dixon, maybe it is not that far but I thought it was. He rents the farm from a man who owns three farms in a row along there.
He has a colic dog that chases cars that come up the lane to the house.

"You will oblige me very much if you can locate and deliver this letter for me.

Private Bruce R. Grippen, Angel Island, California.

Enclosed with this note was a rough diagram of the Lincoln Highway and location of the farm. Postmaster Hogan took the matter up and before 2 o'clock in the afternoon the soldier's letter had been delivered at the Charles Spangler home near Nahusha.

Adam Krug, Former Dixonite, is Called

hospital yesterday.

be expected.

COLBY FAVORS LEAVING HERO DEAD IN FRANCE

Washington, April 22.—"No one who has seen the great American war cemetery in the north of France could ever argue that the bodies of our men should be brought home," says Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby. "I saw those graves with the great American flag flying in a soft breeze above them and was glad the men were buried there," he says.

GRUNAU, OUT OF JAIL, LOOKED TO FOR NEXT MOVE IN RAIL STRIKE

Many Leaders Abandoned Strike and Resumed Work Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, April 22.—The next move of outlaw railroad strikers in the Chicago district, split by a revolt against their own leaders was awaited today by federal officials and railroad representatives.

Meanwhile "rebel" leaders, repudiated by the men when they counseled ending the walkout because, they said, they "could not fight the government" abandoned the insurgents and returned to work at the head of small groups.

Action of John Grunau, president of the Chicago Yardmen's association who obtained his release yesterday from jail at Joliet, Ill., on bond and hurried to Chicago was looked to as the next step toward settlement of the walkout.

Grunau announced several days ago he would urge the men to call off the walkout but whether such an appeal would be headed appeared problematical.

A steady improvement in traffic conditions throughout the middle west and on the Pacific coast was reported by railroads.

5,000 VOTE TO STAY OUT.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, April 22.—Approximately 5,000 railroad strikers meeting in Jersey City today were reported unofficially to have voted not to return to work, but to appeal to men on all lines who have not walked out to do so in their support.

Proposal of striking engineers and firemen in the Hoboken yards of the Erie railroad that they return to work in a body and be guaranteed their seniority rights was rejected by the railroad officials today.

A delegation representing the Hoboken men who are still on strike, conferred with Erie officials here and made the proposal.

Railroad officials insisted each striker should stand on his own record and let it be known that some of the men now out would not be taken back.

BOARD GETS WAGE DEMAND.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, April 22.—Wage demands of the railroad switchmen many of whom recently went out on an "unauthorized" strike, were presented to the railroad labor board today by S. E. Heberling, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Asking a wage advance for the men of 58 per cent with time and a half for overtime, Sundays and holidays, Mr. Heberling said their work was more hazardous than that of any other railroad workers and that the percentage of deaths and accidents was higher than in the coal mining industry. The average industrial life of switchmen, Heberling said, is seven years.

Committees from non-recognized yardmen's association in Cleveland, Kansas City, Columbus and the Chicago Yardmen's association today awaited decision by the board upon their application for hearings.

HE WON THE TOSS

AND JOINED THE ARMY

Cincinnati, April 22.—Alva Harrington, 21, met Sergeant George P. Edmondson, recruiting sergeant on the street. Said the sergeant: "How's your sporting blood? I toss this dice. You call it. Call it right you don't, and call it wrong you join the army." He flipped a coin. They looked. "You win," said Alva. "Right-o," snapped Edmondson. "Fall in!"
Alva "fell."

MANY-ATTENDED BAZAAR.

Last evening, the opening of the Browns baseball bazaar at Rostbrook's hall, saw a large crowd in attendance.
The dance floor was comfortably filled during the entire evening and all of the concessions were liberally patronized. This evening the baseball committees of the Elks and Knights of Columbus will have charge of the dance floor and another large crowd is anticipated.

ATTORNEY BERGE VERY ILL.

coln, Neb., a brother of Mrs. McNiel,

PROPOSES UNION OF ALL AMERICAN NATIONS LEAGUE

President of Uruguay is Sponsor for Protective Body

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Montevideo, April 21.—Formation of an "American League" on a basis of absolute equality between American nations for common action against aggression threatening any one of them from out side nations and for arbitration of inter-American disputes was proposed by Dr. Baltazar Brum, president of Uruguay, in addressing students of the University of Montevideo today.

As a step in the formation of such a league, Dr. Brum declared other American countries should make a declaration similar to the Monroe doctrine, placing them on the same footing as the United States for joint action against European aggression and to secure the solidarity of the American continent. He said the proposed league should be formed without prejudice to the adherents to the League of Nations.

Taking up the Monroe doctrine, Dr.
Brum pointed out how it had "constituted, on the whole, an efficacious safeguard to the territorial integrity of many American countries."

Dr. Brum asserted the entry of the United states into the war was a "anticipated application of the Monroe doctrine," adding:

"Owing to the state in which European countries remain after the struggle, it may be said that fear of invasion by them in America has been removed for many years.

"But is that sufficient reason for us to take no interest in the future and turn away from the Monroe doctrine with the pretext it is now unnecessary?" he asked. "I believe that today, more than ever, we should use forethought in searching for formulas that may assure forever the peace and full independence of American countries."

Former Dixon Man Died in Sterling

John C. Remington, a resident of Dixon for more than 40 years, passed away at his home in Sterling at 11:15 yesterday morning, death following a short illness with pneumonia. The family moved to Sterling from this city about three years ago when the deceased accepted a position of foreman in the paint department at the Krytose plant of the International Harvester company at Rock Falls.

John C. Remington was born November 18, 1874, in this city and continued his residence here until his removal to Sterling. Besides his wife, he is survived by three children, Alson, who is in the United States navy and Ruth and Priscilla at home. Two sisters, Mrs. Grace Mason and Mrs.
W. B. Casey also survive. The funeral will be conducted from the late home, 601 Fifth avenue, Sterling, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Oakwood cemetery in this city.

Freeport Factories Want Daylight Saving

Heads of Freeport factories have petitioned the council to issue a proclamation requesting all merchants, citizens and the school board to change the "noon hour" from 12 m. to 11 a. m.; that business hours be changed accordingly, but that the clock be not turned ahead, the new rule to be effective from May 2nd to October 2nd. Aldermen Haight, George and Young were named as a special committee to investigate the matter and were given power to act.

Woman Must Hang For Girl's Death

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Houde Gagnon was found guilty yesterday of torturing and murdering her 16-year-old step-daughter, Aurea Gagnon, and was sentenced to be hanged, October 1. The girl, after being beaten, burned with a red hot poker, and made to walk barefooted in the snow, was forced to drink poison, the evidence disclosed. The post mortem examination of the body revealed 54 wounds. The defense pleaded insanity.

modern structure in every way and will be a credit to the village.

stitution early yesterday morning, take place in Chicago.

Carl Swartley is here from Sterling.

CHORUS—"GOSH, AIN'T SHE SMART!"

MISSOURI CHIEF SOUNDS PRAISES OF PRES. WILSON

Also Urges Endosement of League of Nations, Treaty

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Joplin, Mo., April 22.—Governor Frederick D. Gardner delivered the keynote address at the Democratic state convention here this morning of which he was chosen temporary chairman. In his address Governor Gardner endorsed the national administration, made a plea for the adoption of the peace treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations without substantial alteration, declared for a small army and opposition to universal military training, condemned industrial courts, and extolled the record of the Democratic state administration in Missouri.

He suggested that the Democratic national convention at San Francisco take the following action:
"That the administration of Woodrow Wilson be heartily endorsed, including his services as commander in chief of the army and navy during the war."

"That the League of Nations be endorsed, not objecting to any reasonable interpretation or reservation, but opposing a reservation the Lodge reservation to Article 10 that destroys the very keystone of the covenant."

"That we outline our promise for the rehabilitation of the nation's financial and fiscal affairs." alers convicted of violating the federal on a blacklist, Captain Hubert Howard, prohibition commissioner for list will be prohibited from dealing nounced that physicians would be

GRAIN PRICES TOOK SHARP NEW BREAKS IN MORNING TRADES

May Corn Quotations in Six Cent Drop at Very Offset

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, April 22.—Feverish activity and at times acute weakness characterized the corn market today. The weakness was ascribed to the fresh breaks in values in securities in Wall street. On the downturn in the price of corn, however, strong commission houses turned to the buying side and rallied the market to yesterday's final level, and in some cases well above.
Then new setbacks quickly ensued.
The opening, which ranged from 1/2 cent to 6 cents lower, with May $1.62 to 1.65 and July 1.56 to 1.57 1/2 were followed by extremely rapid fluctuations, but in no instance under the initial bottom figures.

Oats paralleled the action of corn.
After opening unchanged to 1/2 cent lower, including July at 83 1/2 cents to 84 1/2 cents, the market scored a decided recovery and then descended again.

Provision like cereals gave way under increased selling pressure in sympathy with grain and hogs. Lard touched the lowest prices yet this season.

LIQUIDATION ON N. Y. CHANGE.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, April 22.—Liquidation of speculative shares was resumed at the opening of today's stock market, much of the pressure emanating from professional interests.

Offerings were well absorbed for a time. General Motors recovering ten points of yesterday's 4 1/2 points decline while other leaders in the industrial and special divisions rallied 1 to almost 2 points.

United States Steel and some of the high grade oils, equipments and shipings, developed fresh reactionary tendencies, however, and before the end of the first hour many gains were cancelled with numerous new low records for the current movement.

Liberty Bonds Weaken.

Further weakness of Liberty bonds was again a disquieting influence the first 4 1/2 declining one per cent and the first 4 1/4 losing 1.40 per cent.

Advices received by local banks confirmed recent reports of enforced selling of Liberty bonds of industrial centers where labor troubles have been especially prevalent.

TO BUY FIRE TRUCK.

By a vote of 145 to 29 the people of Rock Falls voted to issue $7,000 in bonds for the purchase of an auto fire truck. The special election was held Tuesday.

CUMMINS SCORES WILSON MYSTERY INCONSISTENCY

Says Administration Has Punished Us
for All Our Sins

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Des Moines, Ia., April 22.—President Wilson and the peace treaty were condemned and the railroad law commended by Senator Cummins, president pro tempore of the senate in an address here today to the Iowa Republican convention.

Predicting Republican success next November Senator Cummins said a Republican president should be chosen "because it is high time the president should be a right minded man."

"For surely," he continued, "eight years of mystery, of uncertainty, of inconsistency, of abnormality, of inconceivable twisting and turning in office of the chief executive are punishment enough for all the sins and blunders we may have committed, and we have earned our emancipation."

Senator Cummins declared the Republicans were responsible for the law returning the railroads to private ownership which he characterized as "great forward step in progressive and constructive legislation," containing a code "for protection for railroad workers."

Defends Labor Board.

Mr. Cummins said the railroad labor board is "a tribunal which will render to railroad wage workers a surer and higher justice than they can ever hope to secure through a strike." With such a tribunal, he said, the public, in its need for uninterrupted transportation was entitled to declare unlawful conspiracies of railroad workers "to coerce employers by inflicting upon an innocent public the infinite cruelities which spring from general cessation of transportation."

The treaty of Versailles will be a campaign issue said Mr. Cummins, who asserted that it contained "unconstitutional and treasonable provisions."

The greatest problem now facing America, Mr. Cummins said, is "to readjust the disordered relation which has inevitably appeared between wages and compensation for personal service and the price of commodities."

Increased production, he added, was the remedy.

H. H. Heinz of the Lee County Electric company went to Mt. Morris yesterday where he will spend the remainder of the week at a demonstration of Thor washing machines.

MARS IS SILENT

Gamer Ranch, Cedar Creek, Neb., April 22.—Dr. Frederick L. Millner and Harvey Gamer, electrical experts, failed in their efforts early today to catch a signal from Mars. The attempt will be renewed tonight.

METER SERVICE CHARGES LEGAL COURT'S DECREE

Decision Marks Defeat of City in Long Litigation

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Springfield, Ill., April 22.—The right of the public utilities commission to fix a service charge for meter service furnished by utility companies, was upheld today by the Illinois supreme court. The decision was rendered in the suit of the city of Dixon against the commission and the Dixon Water company. The case was appealed from the Sangamon county circuit court.

The above Associated Press dispatch from Springfield brings news of the final action in the fight of the city of Dixon against an order of the Illinois Public Utilities Commission, entered several years ago, giving the Dixon Water company the right to make charges for meters installed in this city, and at the same time ordering that all flat water rates in the city be discontinued, that meters installed for every service and that charges made on meter registrations.

The city authorities under Mayor Schmidt's administration at once ordered a fight against the order, and Attorney Mark C. Keller, who was then city attorney, was directed to prepare a contest. The case was fully argued before the commission, which later entered an order sustaining its previous orders, and the case was then appealed to the Circuit Court of Sangamon county, to which all cases in which the Utilities Commission is concerned are taken.

ARGUED EARLY THIS YEAR.

City Attorney Robert Scott was empowered by the council to secure the assistance of former City Attorney Attorney Keller, who had prepared all previous matter in the case, and they appeared before the Sangamon county Circuit Court early this year to argue the case, while Henry S. Dixon and Harry C. Warner were attorneys for the Water Company.

The Sangamon Circuit Court held for the Water Company, and the case was appealed to and argued before the Supreme Court with the above result. Justice James W. Cartwright, of Oregon, is reported to have written the opinion of the court, according to advices received by the interested advocates.

CABBAGE TREES

The backyard gardener grows cabbage, if he has plenty of space, but he grows cabbage plants.
On the Island of Jersey, in the English channel, they have grown what might be called cabbage trees through all of northern Europe, and as far east as Siberia.
The wild cabbage stalk has been known to reach 16 feet in height. Many attain 12 feet, and the woody stalks have been used for rafters by native builders. Walking sticks are made of the stems whittled down. Our savage forefathers, thousands of years ago, dined on wild cabbage, the loose head being eaten. Cultivation has produced the tame cabbage, smaller in size, with a firmer head, and one better adapted to winter storage.

It is So Easy to Keep Kiddies' Things Clean with the Maytag

"The Gray Machine with the Red Stripes."

Cabinet ELECTRIC WASHER

ARE the children's things a problem in your home? Do you dread to see the hamper grow higher and higher with soiled pieces. Think what a blessing a Maytag Cabinet Electric Washer would be. When the children's things pile up, simply put them in the Maytag aluminum cylinder—turn the switch. That's all—positively all.

The forceful action of the water produced by the Millrace Principle flushes out every atom of dirt. Handles each piece as carefully as your hands. Prevents the wear of continued rubbing. And saves so much time.

It's same with everything—due to wonders of this scientific Millrace Principle. Heavy things, coarse things, light things, frilly things, from rag rugs to delicate laces, are perfectly cleansed in the wonderful Maytag aluminum cylinder. Nothing touches them but hot, sudsy water. All the cleansing action is produced in the water by the Millrace Principle. A cylinder full of clothes usually requiring 15 to 25 minutes is thoroughly washed in 10 to 12 minutes.

Why be behind the times? Why worry about wash-day and wash-women? Come see a demonstration of the Millrace Principle. Come see yourself why this improved scientific machine is converting thousands of women to the modern idea of washing by machine. If you don't fully understand the reasons for the Maytag's popularity, don't fail to see a demonstration at once. Come to our store or phone us. We will show it to you in your own home.

The fairylike gracefulness of a little girl may be easily marred by footwear that lacks the necessary daintiness and youthful styling.

DIXON GIRL IN GOOD POSITION—

Miss Zella M. Graff, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Graff, of this city, writes interestingly to her mother of Enid, Oklahoma, where she is now teaching. Miss Graff, before the war, was teaching in Kansas City, and at the outbreak of the war went to Washington to do war work, remaining there until the close of the war. She is now supervisor of writing in the city schools of Enid, Okla., which she says, is growing fast. New buildings are going up everywhere you turn, Miss Graff writes. "We are going to have a convention hall next year that will seat 10,000 people. The board of education of Enid has decided to pay us for 12 months next year." Miss Graff's salary this year was the same that she received in Kansas City; next year she will receive $700 over this last year's salary as she has been re-elected to fill the same position. The climate of Enid, she says, is warm and delightful now and vegetation is far advanced. Real estate and rents are very high.

IDEAL CLUB MEETING—

An explanation of the Monroe Doctrine, concise and understandable, with a brief sketch of the life of President Monroe dealing largely with his life before he entered the presidency, was given by Mrs. H. L. Quick at the regular meeting of the Ideal club, held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. W. Miller. The paper was excellent and was greatly enjoyed by the members. Miss Orleans Newcomer, who is studying music at Northwestern University, sang for the club members, giving a most delightful number. Current events received pleasant treatment by Mrs. Beam and several members contributed gleanings to the program. Quotations from various authors were given in response to roll call. Mrs. Miller served tempting refreshments at the close of the program. The next meeting will be held next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Henry Leydig.

ST. LUKE'S MEN GAVE DINNER—

The men of St. Luke's church entertained the women of the church at a very delightful dinner, served in the guild rooms of the church Wednesday evening. A three-piece orchestra furnished pleasing entertainment during the serving of the excellent dinner, which was followed by a number of musical selections. Delightful vocal numbers were given by Miss Marcelle Kent, Bert Green, and J. E. B. Lauder. Clinton Fahrney accompanied Miss Kent and Mr. Green and Mr. Lauder sang with no accompaniment. A note of excitement was added to the affair for the ladies by the drawing of numbers for a bouquet of beautiful sweetpeas which awarded to Mrs. Leo Dysart.

C. W. B. M. MEETING—

Mrs. William C. Stauffer was hostess on Wednesday evening to the members of the Christian Women's Board of Missions. Forty-five members and several guests were in attendance, spending a very pleasant evening. Miss Tillie Rice was in charge of the devotional service and other special program numbers were a delightful solo by Mrs. Edna Charles and a well read selection by Miss Mildred Zorger. Mrs. Clinton Rhodes, a past president of the society, with a record of nine years of efficient service, was presented by the society with a handsome linen tablecloth. Salad and wafers were served by Mrs. Stauffer during the social hour which followed the program.

SOCIAL FOR NEW MEMBERS—

Members of the Methodist church of Franklin Grove and their friends enjoyed a reception, given in the church parlors on Wednesday evening in honor of the new members, who joined the church on Easter Sunday or since that day, and the members of the preparatory class. The new members number fifteen and there are twelve in the preparatory class. About one hundred people enjoyed the pleasant social features of the evening and the refreshments served.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Many housekeepers are replacing their two sets of window curtains by using casement cloth or natural pongee draperies.

The white glass curtains and heavier overdraperies were very attractive but they certainly meant an extra amount of work.

The casement curtains are just as attractive and mean a minimum amount of work. They eliminate worry about colors fading in overhangings and all the somewhat fussy laundering of the glass curtains. Some decorators will not recommend pongee for windows exposed to an unusual amount of sun, contending that the heat of the sun through glass rots the fabric. However, the casement curtains are just as attractive and mean a minimum amount of work. They eliminate worry about colors fading in overhangings and all the somewhat fussy laundering of the glass curtains.

MUSIC AT ST. PAUL'S—

At the Sunday morning service at St. Paul's Lutheran church Miss Orleans Newcomer will sing, "Teach Me To Pray," by Jewitt, and her guest, Miss Lou Anna Childers, also a student at Northwestern University, will sing, "Row Down Thine Ear," by Jenks. Miss Lois Lord and Horace Mulkins will furnish special numbers at the evening service.

RHEUMATISM

Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru—the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers the worst of all diseases, and he has instructed your druggist to guarantee it in every instance.

MY OWN RECIPES

Macaroni makes a change from potatoes. Boil one cup of broken macaroni in four cups of salted water till tender. Drain, season with salt, paprika, and butter and serve. The water should be boiling briskly when the macaroni is put in.

RICE AS BREAKFAST FOOD

1 cup rice
2 teaspoons salt 1 1/2 cups water 1 1/2 cups milk.

Wash rice. Put water with salt in top of double boiler. When boiling hard add rice slowly so as not to stop boiling. Boil five or ten minutes. Put over hot water, add milk and steam until tender, about forty-five minutes, depending on the age of the rice. Serve with sugar and top milk.

STUFFED FIGS

1 pound whole figs
English walnuts 1 1/2 cup sugar 1-2 cup lemon
1 1/2 teaspoon salt 1-2 cup whipped cream
2 tablespoons powdered sugar

Make an opening in one side of each fig and fill with nut meats finely chopped. Put figs in a sauce pan cover with boiling water and cook until tender. Ten minutes before removing from the fire add sugar.

"JUST ONE" IS ALL

One Tablet Always Right Dosage Because "They Never Wear Out."

No other laxative in the world can honestly make the above claim. All others soon cease to give results without constant increase of dosage. They may be good at first, but the system gets used to them and refuses to respond so readily.

"Just One" is the new idea laxative. Twenty different laxatives in one box. Each of the 20 tablets is a different and successful laxative formula. You change laxative every dose you take. You have to change, you cannot overlook it, because there is only one of each kind in each package.

It's very injurious to keep pounding away on the same organ with the same laxative day after day. The organ becomes callous and unresponsive. Then you must either double the dose or get another laxative.

"Just One" works on first one organ and then another. It gets results, but the system has no chance to get used to it. That's why it "never wears out."

You've been waiting for "Just One." So get a box today. Any druggist anywhere can get "Just One" for you or we will mail it postpaid upon receipt of 25c per box. Ferritone Chemical Co., Council Bluffs, Iowa.

DIXON MUST HAVE HOUSES

Many Dixon people can give sorry testimony to the great need for more homes in this city. If you are skeptical sell your house or rent it to someone, then go out to find one to move into. You'll be convinced.

We all want Dixon to have greater population, but Dixon's growth is limited absolutely by the available homes for rent. We cannot expect people to move to Dixon to live if there are no homes for them to live in, nor will newcomers buy or build homes. The great majority of them want to rent.

Building costs are high, but so are wages and most people are better able to build and buy homes now than they ever were before, in spite of the increased costs. We believe that if the manufacturers and business men of Dixon were to raise a fund and build fifty houses this summer they would all be sold before they were completed. Many of the purchasers would be people who already live here but who want better homes than they now occupy, but when they move new people would come in and rent the homes they left.

Building homes will not entirely solve the problem of a greater Dixon but certainly it is the first step. Dixon cannot grow unless more homes are built.

HOMES FOR GIRLS

The Young Women's Christian Association is doing a timely thing.

At its national convention in Cleveland, the subject of paramount consideration will be the housing problem, as it affects business women and employed girls.

At the recent convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, in Chicago, Mrs. Raymond Robins, president of the International Congress of Working Women, made the statement that there are 12-000,000 women in industry in the United States, two-thirds of whom are under 21 years of age, and a large majority of whom live away from home.

Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., chairman of the housing committee, National Board of the Y. W. C. A., cites the fact that 20,000 girls seeking homes were turned away from the Y. W. C. A.'s in New York City alone in 1919, though 57,000 were accommodated.

The Y. W. C. A. is not going into the housing problem "blind." Before the war, the lack of housing accommodations for wage-earning women was recognized, and the organization began work which has already brought results.

Excavations are being made now for the Grace Dodge Hotel in Washington. This is to be a hotel for women and girls, with some rooms left open for transients visiting Washington. It will cost in the neighborhood of $1,200,000, and is financed by the national organization. It will contain 350 single rooms, plenty of shower baths, social rooms on the ground floor, adequate accommodations for group and club meetings, a big dining room, infirmary, valeting rooms, where girls may press and mend their clothes, and kitchenette.

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS

Christian, the Pilgrim, is presented by John Bunyon as walking in a pathway "exceeding narrow." On the right thereof was a deep ditch and on the left a quagmire.

"When he sought in the dark to shun the ditch on the one hand, he was ready to tip over into the mire on the other," says Bunyon.
"Also when he sought to escape the mire, without great carefulness he would be ready to fall into the ditch.

"Thus he went on, and I hear him sigh bi-terly; for besides the dangers mentioned above, the pathway was here so dark, that ofttimes, when he lift up his feet to set forward, he knew not where or upon what he should set it next.

A fairly accurate picture is this of a large portion of mankind today, groping in the dark with unsteady foot; weary, stumbling, afraid; bent low under a grievous burden of debt; eyes still filmed with the red it saw for four years; on the one hand the ditch of economic ruin, and on the other the quag of despair.

But far ahead of him Christian saw a dim light, as of breaking dawn. And when he knew not whether to give himself to the ditch on the one hand, or to the quag on the other, he was sustained by the light in the distance, and so went on, though the way became more difficult with each step forward.

Like Christian, mankind neither will fall into the quag or the ditch, for it is guided by the light of a sublime faith, in itself based on a history in which the going has been mostly rough.

Always has mankind been stumbling and almost falling; blundering and groping; and yet always stumbling and falling FORWARD on the steep road, toward the broad, level stretches where the light shines. Often before it has come through the darkest paths safely, and in this fact lies the basis of its faith today.

TAXATION

The war brought radical changes in taxation, yet the old, obsolete taxing machinery is still in vogue, and to date there isn't even a tangible and substantial movement on foot for a change.

Before the war the heaviest burden of taxation was imposed by cities, counties and states. The average city dweller paid his city about $20 a year, his county and state about $8 a year and Uncle Sam about $10 a year.
The rural dweller paid his county and state about $8 a year and Uncle Sam $1. But the average to Uncle Sam or the sober man of both the city and county was about $5 and the other $1 per capita was paid by the drinkers through taxes on liquor.

But since the war, county and state taxes are insignificant compared to those of the federal government. The average to every man, woman and child demanded by the Washington government, is $60 a year, in itself nearly twice as much as any city dweller ever paid before the war to all governments and nearly four times what the rural man paid.

Heavy taxation brought on by the war hasn't touched the national wealth. It is being levied against production and consumption, where it will do most to increase living costs and nothing to emancipate the natural resources.

"THE OLD WOMAN"

At the nearby table in the restaurant two young women were discussing the age of a man employed in the office where they worked.

"I don't think he is very old," one said.

"Yes, he is; I'm sure he is," exclaimed the other.

"But he doesn't look it," argued the first.

"I know he doesn't, but he's old, just the same."

"How do you know?"

"Well, the other day I heard him speak of his wife as 'the old woman,' and if she's an old woman he can't be so very young, do you think?"

"Yes," decided the first young woman, "I guess you're right. When they begin referring to their wives as 'the old woman' they're as old or older."

At that, a resolution declaring the war at an end will be nearer the truth than a declaration of peace.

Government is financing itself now by borrowing from Peter and leaving Paul to posterity.

The Senate might be worse. It didn't kill America's two big leagues.

OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE FAIRY QUEEN HEARS THE NEWS.

Nancy and Nick and the Magical Mushroom got to the Fairy Queen's palace in a great hurry, after they had left Jack Frost pinching the fairies in the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming, for the Green Shoes could go faster than your electric engine on its shiny tin track.

When the Fairy Queen heard the disgraceful way in which Jack Frost was behaving she was ever so put out about it. "My, oh my!" she exclaimed so emphatically that her crown slid sideways, and she had to straighten it. "Here I've been so busy getting the eggs colored for the Easter Bunny, and getting him started on his travels, I haven't had time to notice what was going on.
Jack Frost is up to his impish tricks, is he, holding back the spring and scaring the fairies who are trying to put the buds on! Now just let me think a minute!" And for a while she tapped her wand thoughtfully. Presently she said, "I'm a fairy, but I haven't any power over Jack Frost, and he knows it." Then the Mushroom (who had an idea, you remember) thought it was time to say something. "Jack Frost is afraid of Mr. Sun," he declared. "Why can't he chase him for us?"

"The very thing!" exclaimed the Fairy Queen. Then suddenly her face clouded. "But where IS Mr. Sun?" she asked. "I haven't seen him for a week and four days and three hours and seven minutes and twenty seconds.
I need him very much, too, for other things. I'm completely out of yellow paint, and I can't make any more until Mr. Sun gives me some golden beams to make it with."

At that, the twins held up their empty buckets. "Why that's what our errand is about," they explained. "Rubadub sent us for some yellow paint so he can paint the spring flowers."

I shall tell you tomorrow what Mr. Sun did when he was found.

GET ACTION ON YOUR IDEAS

BY ROGER W. BABSON, World-Famous Statistician.

Have you ever had an idea?
Nearly everybody has.
I've often wondered why we don't get the benefit of some of these splendid thoughts.

I was talking it over with an advertising man and he offered a suggestion.
"It seems," he said, "that an idea is good only as it is used."

"It is like our muscles."
"Ideas need exercise to amount to anything."

You've met men that talk vaguely about a great idea they have.
You meet them a couple of years later and they are still talking about the same idea.

Frequently they live and die talking about this idea, and it is a crime, because the world has lost the use of a creative genius.

Traffic in the think tank has been blocked by a single obstacle.
If you want ideas, you'll have to act on them.

When an idea appears, get immediate action on it.
If you can't put it into practice at once, write it out in full and file it away where you can get it when you need it.

The result is the same in either case—the decks are cleared and the door is open for another idea.

SMILE AWHILE

LEE HINGSTON

Deprived of drink, my Uncle Bill resorted to a home-made still: I got his money in the will, his assets and entails. The papers told the modest sum and then affairs began to hum, a mighty mail began to come, they brought it in hales. Oh, how the human brain-pan teems with plans, projections, ways and schemes to make one rich beyond the dreams of avarice or greed!
What fortunes lurk beneath our feet, what golden chances in "The Street," and, yes, the philanthropic beat, he comes, he comes indeed! One urged to teach the Hottentots the use of copper-bottomed pots, to fit them out with garden-plots and watch what happened then, and from another, suave and bland: "Dig mummies from old Egypt's sand, the cannibals will think them grand; we'll call them kipped men!" Mail matter covered chairs and floors and, if I chanced to go outdoors, promoters waited me in scores, they camped about my gate; till I who, like a little child, had looked on life and sweetly smiled, with disposition raw and riled, beheld the world with hate. At length I wrote—I would be free—a check for what had come to me and sent it to mine enemy who lives across the way, and he, so calm and happy then, now shuns and fears the sight of me; I live each week on eight or ten, but I am blithe and gay.

eral of the Public Health Service by one of the officers of that corps, sets forth with renewed emphasis the role that domestic pets may play in the transmission of disease, especially among children. The instance cited was that of a fatal case of smallpox in an infant in arms.

The nearest case of the disease was in a house a block or so distant, and although the two families had no social relations, this apparently did not deter a dog belonging to the infected family from dividing his attention im-partially between the two homes, eating at one place and sleeping at the other.

In no other way could the source of the infection of the baby be ex-smallpox in one of the southwestern states, submitted to the surgeon gen-plained than that the dog fondled by the children of the smallpox family, carried the virus of the disease to the neighbor's baby. Similar instances have been noted before in connection with smallpox transmission, and cats and dogs have been incriminated as carriers of plague-infected deas-cases of bubonic plague so contracted having been observed by Public Health Service officers working in plague epidemics.

The same household pets also have been charged in various instances with the responsibility of carrying the infection of diphtheria, scarlet fever and other communicable diseases of childhood.

A disease that annually causes more than 100 deaths in this country is rabies and the role of domestic animals in spreading this disease is definitely proven, speculation or circumstantial evidence being discarded.

Altogether therefore, it is perfectly evident that the citizen who keeps domestic pets maintains at the same time a very potential source of danger a sanitary menace to his own household and to that of his neighbor.

ACT I
The hermit sat before his cave.

His whiskers reached his knees And gently they waved to and fro When kissed by vernal breeze.

He gazed upon the scenery Which surely was first-class; With keen delight he viewed the buds,

The trees and freshening grass.
At distant mountain tops he gazed, They made his spirits glow;
And then he rubbed with delight

Upon the vales below.
While off his humble domicile With happiness he eyed,
His cave was not luxurious,
But he was satisfied.

ACT II
A stranger climbed the path which led

Up to the hermit's home;
And off he halted to get breath And wipe his sweaty dome.

At last he stood before the cave And hailed the hermit thus:
"Why do you live alone like this,
A solitary cuss?"

Why not forsake this eagle's nest And seek the city street Where friends, companionship you'll find?

And old acquaintance meet?
Why do you choose a cavern home Where animals belong

When you could have a bungalow And dwell amid the throng?"

ACT III
The hermit rested on the man A contemplative eye;

"Dear sir," he said, "you may not know Occasionally I Get word of what is going on In busy marts of trade, So I prefer to linger here Because I am afraid, Afraid of what they'd do if I Down to the city went,
And while I'm living in this cave They cannot raise my rent."

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

I WAS TOO HAPPY TO DOUBT THE REALITY OF BOB'S LOVE FOR ME.

I intended never to be jealous of Katherine Miller again. I did not go off to sleep as I was supposed to do but I kept very still and watched my husband while he slept. Bob had been awake in that awful dungeon, brooding, raging and despairing, for two days and nights. When I remembered this, I stopped my silly chattering and Bob fell into slumber like that of a tired infant. I stopped talking, but I was too excited to stop thinking.

I intended never to be jealous of any woman again. I had learned my lesson. I proposed to walk serenely all my days with perfect faith in Bob's loyalty and devotion.

I was so terribly happy to be at one with my husband again that it seemed utterly absurd to imagine that I would ever question the exclusiveness of his love for me. Love like ours must be reciprocal—it couldn't exist as a one-sided relation, I told myself.

I suppose all proper wives fall into the same train of mind—at intervals —and become completely trusting, after the reconciliations which follow differences or quarrels with their husbands.

I felt awfully humble as I considered how much Bob loved me. I was abjectly grateful to him for caring for such a silly, rash unreasonable creature as I knew myself to be. I vowed to myself that I would trust Bob's silences as well as his demonstration of affection forever and forever.

"It is by his silences," I told myself, "that a husband makes a wife most jealous. The questions he ignores, the accusations he will not deny, these drive a wife into hysteria. On the other hand, a woman maddens a man by talking. She elaborates upon her flirtations and her temptations believing that the jealousy which she arouses is a proof of a man's love."

Bob was a silent man by nature and I warned myself that I would better not construe his silences as a covert proof that he loved me. I would accept them as evidence that he had no hidden romances to tell about!

And then I wondered how much, or how little—I ought to tell Bob about the long days I had passed locked up in that secret chamber with Chrysand Spence and Archer. There was nothing to tell except that we had all been nearly bored to death—all but Jordan Spence, who had fallen in love with my sister-in-law.

Yet, if I discussed my personal experiences and feelings—or dwelt at all upon the chivalry of Spence and Archer, I was afraid that I might suggest a line of thought which would make my husband most unhappy. The ordinary kindnesses and sympathy and consideration with which the two men had encouraged us two women in our strange situation (we four had lived like castaways on a reef in mid-ocean) the unavoidable intimacies of our life in that prison—would make Bob impatient if not furious. I decided to postpone that chapter of my story until we were back at home once more.

Reviewing my prudence, thus, I felt decidedly sorry for all of the brides of today. Our mothers and our grandmothers had had a much easier time.
I felt sure. They were not sophisticated, as are most young women today. Their innocence and their loyalty were accepted by their husbands as a matter of course.

They were fortunate because, like Caesar's wife, they were held above suspicion by their husbands.

Nowadays the most popular plays and novels and movie plots deal with the love affairs of persons who are married. I am sure that women today are as honorable as they ever were, but it is the trend of modern romance to lead them into temptation.
Thus very nice husbands acquire horrid suspicions. Probably Bob would—The ominous persistent clatter of automobiles—a curious "zip-pityzip-zip"—of machine guns interrupted my train of thought.

YOUNG WOMEN IN DENIMS APPEAR IN CAPITAL TODAY

And D.A.R. Sightseers Said it Was "Horrifying Sight"

Washington, April 21.—The staid house office building was given a touch of jazz today by six young women secretaries who enrolled as the newest recruits in Representative Upshaw's overall brigade.

Appearing in blue denim trousers, the bottoms of which were rolled well up above their high heeled pumps, the young women created something of a sensation and had a large following as they tripped gaily along the corridors. The drabness of the uniforms was relieved by multi-colored silk waist and silk stockings.

"It's a horrifying spectacle," chorused a dozen Daughters of the American Revolution as their sight seeing trip through the big office building was interrupted by the crowds following the young secretaries.

TO PARADE IN NEW YORK

New York April 17.—New York's big overall parade next Saturday will be given a national flavor by the presence in the line of march of delegates from other cities having overall clubs, it was announced today.

Expansion of the parade plans followed the arrival here yesterday of J. Newton Barker, a volunteer marcher from Savannah, Ga. The Cheese Club committee in charge of the demonstration decided to extend invitations to all overall clubs to send delegates.

Police Commissioner Enright has promised the committee a platoon of overall clad policemen to lead the march, provided Mayor Hylan will sanction temporary doffing of regulation police attire.

Don't Let Your Imagination Go to Sleep—Develop It

BY ROGER W. BABSON, World-Famous Statistician.

Everything, from needles to locomotives, is subject to improvement. Everything, from footstools to fire engines, offers an opportunity for an improvement and the reward the world pays for new ideas.

Moreover, every one has a chance at it—every one's ideas are individual. They are his own and distinct from any others.

We all have that magic quality of imagination. We were born with it, and displayed it to a marked degree as children. Since then we've kept it pretty well covered up.

We have let it go to sleep and gather dust.

But it's there just the same and can be developed, just as a muscle can be developed by exercise.

If you want to develop practical imagination, start with fact and back up each step with facts as you go along.

Take your own job, for instance, a thing you know a good deal about, look at each process, each motion and each product—get all the facts you can about them.

Begin asking yourself questions and the first thing you know you have an idea.

Stop right there and back it up with fact.

See whether it will work.

So sure it's practical, then go to the next step.

This week Home-Lovers from coast to coast are planning to make their homes more attractive, more distinctly American—and the war taught us that throughout the world the American home stands out beyond competition.

Exceptional Showing Quaker Curtains and Nets

Quaker Craft Curtains--Quaker Sectional Panel Curtains--Quaker Craft Nets

Both in quality and design, Quaker Craft curtains enjoy a well earned reputation for superiority—and little wonder, for the expert Quaker designers spare no efforts in turning out clever and original patterns, while the skilled Quaker craftsmen make quality their first aim. Nearly all the patterns in our great display are "confined patterns" shown only by A. L. Geisenheimer & Co.

This leadership applies equally to Quaker Craft nets. You will find nets for every use and every purpose in a showing here that we believe is without a peer. The high quality of the yarns used in their manufacture and their splendid finish are worthy of special note.

In such extensive and complete assortments you may be sure of finding anything you may need in curtains or curtain fabrics.

APRIL 19-24

is then, your week, Madam. And for your convenience we are displaying the newest styles in window drapery treatments, since in most of your rooms it is the window that is the center of your decorative thought.

Moreover, we have gathered for you the finest collection of materials from which to make your selection.

Whether you are considering new draperies or not, we invite you to come in and see our Home Craft Week display.

Peace With Packers Costly to Consumers

Bureau of Markets call these cost of living increases "price improvements."

(By N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.) Washington, D. C.—Meat prices have improved!

This may be news to you housewives, but, nevertheless, it is true. The United States Bureau of Markets, of which George Livingston is chief, insists meat prices show improvement WHEN THEY GO UP!

The higher they go the greater the improvement?

Before the first of March last the Federal Trade Commission was hot upon the trail of the "Big Five" meat packers. The commission urged the enactment of legislation regulating the packing combine. Then Attorney General Palmer stepped in.

Palmer declared peace with the packers Feb. 27. Under the Palmer agreement the packers promised to be good, and Palmer agreed not to press court action against them. Palmer declared:

"The decree which the Department of Justice has brought about by urgent insistence is designed to restore freedom of competition and increase the opportunities for individual initiative in business, which must, in time, bear good fruit for the public welfare."

Here is the "good fruit": The downward trend of beef prices during January and February was checked the first week in March, and throughout the remainder of the month were slight weekly improvements.

This is the report, just published by the United States Bureau of Markets. The two months BEFORE Palmer called off the packers' cases, meat prices were decreasing. But immediately after he dismissed the suits the downward trend was checked, and prices began going upward.

During March western wholesale meat prices went up from 5 to 25 per cent. The smallest increase was in the best cuts of beef, and the highest price boost was in the cheaper cuts of veal. Cheapest beef (common cows) increased from $13 to $15; lamb increased a dollar a hundredweight; mutton went up $1-1/2; choice veal increased $5; common veal prices were boosted from $18 to $22; pork loins increased $4, and all other pork increased at least a dollar per 100 lbs. This price boost was made during March, immediately after Palmer dismissed the cases against the packers, when he said:

"This will be highly beneficial to the public in its effect."

The Bureau of Markets reports: "While the seasonal demand for beef was slightly less (in March) than during the corresponding month one year ago, the increased marketings of lambs and fresh pork cuts indicated a substantial increase in volume of all fresh meats handled."

But the decreased demand for beef didn't stop the packers (freed by Palmer) from increasing beef prices. And the increased marketings of lamb and pork didn't interfere with packers boosting prices of lamb and pork, in some instances, as high as 25 per cent.

This boosting of meat prices, immediately following Palmer's peace-with-the-packers is called "price improvements" by the Bureau of Markets.

Before the first of March last the Federal Trade Commission was hot upon the trail of the "Big Five" meat packers. The commission urged the enactment of legislation regulating the packing combine. Then Attorney General Palmer stepped in.

Palmer declared peace with the packers Feb. 27. Under the Palmer agreement the packers promised to be good, and Palmer agreed not to press court action against them. Palmer declared:

"The decree which the Department of Justice has brought about by urgent insistence is designed to restore freedom of competition and increase the opportunities for individual initiative in business, which must, in time, bear good fruit for the public welfare."

Here is the "good fruit": The downward trend of beef prices during January and February was checked the first week in March, and throughout the remainder of the month were slight weekly improvements.

This is the report, just published by the United States Bureau of Markets. The two months BEFORE Palmer called off the packers' cases, meat prices were decreasing. But immediately after he dismissed the suits the downward trend was checked, and prices began going upward.

During March western wholesale meat prices went up from 5 to 25 per cent. The smallest increase was in the best cuts of beef, and the highest price boost was in the cheaper cuts of veal. Cheapest beef (common cows) increased from $13 to $15; lamb increased a dollar a hundredweight; mutton went up $1-1/2; choice veal increased $5; common veal prices were boosted from $18 to $22; pork loins increased $4, and all other pork increased at least a dollar per 100 lbs. This price boost was made during March, immediately after Palmer dismissed the cases against the packers, when he said:

The Bureau of Markets reports: "While the seasonal demand for beef was slightly less (in March) than during the corresponding month one year ago, the increased marketings of lambs and fresh pork cuts indicated a substantial increase in volume of all fresh meats handled."

But the decreased demand for beef didn't stop the packers (freed by Palmer) from increasing beef prices. And the increased marketings of lamb and pork didn't interfere with packers boosting prices of lamb and pork, in some instances, as high as 25 per cent.

This boosting of meat prices, immediately following Palmer's peace-with-the-packers is called "price improvements" by the Bureau of Markets.

MARY'S PLAN.

CHAPTER 118.

Mary and Gardner remained all the evening. It belongs to me and I have no notion of resigning it. "Mary's right, Bob! I don't believe I ever would have had the courage to throw up my position and try to have a home had it not been for her. The rest—going back to my work at the shop, and still keeping my home—I worked out myself."

"Famously, too, I should say," Gardner remarked.

"System, Gardner, system! I said again. Women who keep house do it in a haphazard way they never would dream of doing anything else. But I honestly believe that women are going to come to a point very soon when they will regard housekeeping as a sort of business that needs systematizing as much as anything else. I don't mean only people in our circumstances, but all housekeepers. Most women are slaves to their work, when it isn't at all necessary."

"That's where your business training comes in," Gardner again remarked. "But a good many girls marry young, too young to have what little office or business experience they may have had do them any good. They can't cook, they aren't neat—"

"Bosh!" Of course it was Mary, "any girl can do those things if she WANTS to. The trouble is they just make up their minds they don't like housework, and won't do it. Such girls should go right on working and hire their home work done."

"But they almost always marry men like you, Bob, who are too proud to let them work in a shop or office, even if they don't care how much harder they work at home. It's the men, their beastly pride, that makes things hard for the girl who cares for them, and yet who wants to go on working, so they may be more comfortable."

"Some day I am going to write a book and tell the men to be fairer than they are, to treat a girl they want to marry, or one they do marry, as a business partner. Make it a fifty-fifty proposition. If they can afford for her to stay at home and she prefers it, why pay her. There'd be mighty few divorces if I had things my way."

"Don't wait to write a book, take the lecture platform. Mary, you'd be a hit," Robert teased.

"It's true, every word. If a woman stay at home, minds the house and the children, she is earning money just as surely as is her husband, and should be paid a salary. If she works side by side with him, they should each bear their share of the expenses, each be equally interested in all they do—then there would be no friction."

"Come on, Mrs. Lecturer! Bryan had better look to his laurels," Gardner remarked.
